WIRE SERVICE IN DANGER

Snow Averages Depth of Two Feet Over State; No Prospect of Ceasing.

DENVER, Dec. 4.—At midnight the storm which has practically isolated Colorado from the world had not abated, but the fall of snow was increasing. The government weather bureau closed at 9 o'clock and its records showed 24.8 inches of snowfall and 1.8 inches of precipitation within the 14 hours that the storm had been raging here.

Only two accidents due to the storm were reported to the police here tonight. Nellie Foster, 30, was found lying in a snowdrift at Ninth and "A" streets by the police. She was taken unconscious to the emergency hospital. The roof of a building occupied by a motor car company, and the rear of the adjoining building, collapsed late tonight under its burden of snow. No one was injured.

No wheel or traffic turned in Denver after 10 o'clock tonight and not a mail arrived or left the city after 8 o'clock, save the Union Pacific eastbound passenger train No. 104, which became snowbound within 10 miles of the city limits. Train service was suspended on the Denver and Rio Grande, Union Pacific and the Colorado, C. & G. and C. & G. railroads. It is doubtful whether they are running on the roads.

Denver, Dec. 4.—The official statement that the 10 in. in the south central portions of the state were in Denver. At Central City there is a depth of 10 in. in the valley.

At 10 o'clock last night, the snow was 10 in. deep all over the state. For 10-12 in. in the mountains. Wyo.-Colo reports a 4-foot drift of about 14 inches through out the state. In Cheyenne the snow has reached a depth of 10 inches. The temperature at all points both in Colorado and in Wyoming was relatively cold and the storm was not accompanied by any great degree of wind. Telegraph and telephone communication, while not demoralized, was bedeviled, and fear of a freeze which would put all lines out of commission was expressed by telegraph companies tonight.

Below Frosting.

Early tonight the thermometer was still under freezing where it had stood ever since midnight last night. The snow, formed at moderate temperature, fell in a wet, heavy mass, not packed easily and added to the difficulties of keeping traffic open through the day and early evening. There was comparatively no wind, thus minimizing the damage. Only meager reports had been received from outlying cities and towns, but these showed that the record snowfall was general throughout the mountain districts and on the plains east of the Rockies.

Pueblo reported serious interruptions.

ETCH-ETCHY BILL OPPOSED BY CHURCH

California Congressman Voted for It in House; Is Now Asking Its Defeat.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—San Francisco's fight for the right to draw its water supply from a reservoir in the Etch-Etchy valley, Yosemite National park, took an unexpected turn in the senate tonight when Senator Hayes of California presented a letter from Representative Church who supported the measure in the house, wrote that he had done so reluctantly because his constituents from the San Joaquin valley believed their interests were fully protected in the measure. He declared that he was convinced that the Baker bill would result in ultimate disaster for the farming interests of the San Joaquin valley.

The reading of the letter provoked immediate comment. Senator Thomas H. Hart favored the measure in an executive speech yesterday declared it to be a remarkable and unique thing for a member of one house who had reported a bill there to write a letter to be read in the other house taking foot of a bill.

This gentleman has up to the time the writing of this letter apparently

RESCUE PIERCING FAST BARRIER IN CYCLE MINE

Expect to Reach Place Where Miners
Last Worked Early
This Morning

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 4.—Falling rock and further caving today carried away the work of hours in as many seconds, in the four days fight with the slide in the Golden Cycle mine for the bodies of Shift Boss Frank M. Woods, Samuel Sorenson and Patrick Kerney.

Rescue crews pushed through the main slide three times today only to be driven back when their tunnels collapsed but at 8 o'clock tonight finally reached solid formation and protected by solid rock, were beyond further danger.

Blasting can begin now and it is expected they will reach the place where the unfortunate Shift Boss and men were last seen by morning.

The damage to the interior of the mine in the fall of half a million tons of rock since Monday afternoon is estimated at $100,000 and will necessitate the abandonment of the northern portion of the mine.

German Credit Plan
Not Acceptable Here

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Consideration of rural credit legislation was begun today by a subcommittee of the House banking currency committee of which Representative Bulkeley of Ohio is chairman.

Representative Hayes of California, Republican, declared that the American people never would stand for the German "landesbank" system which has been suggested as a basis for legislation. Under this scheme, he said, mortgages forfeited their hold upon debts of principal or interest, either in whole or in part, if the committee's bill is adopted.

ONE OF HEAVIEST STORMS IN YEARS RAGES FOR MORE THAN TWENTY-THREE HOURS, BURYING ENTIRE PIKES PEAK REGION UNDER GREAT SNOW BLANKET

Street Cars Tied Up, Steam Railroads Butter Way Through Giant Drifts and Business Receives Body Blow; Schools
Are Closed Until Conditions Improve

Colorado Springs was snowbound yesterday by a storm that at times assumed the proportions of a blizzard and which buried the region under two feet of snow.

Street car lines were paralyzed, business was brought to a standstill and scores of men and women were marooned; many not being able to return to their homes last night.

Rotary snow plows, pushed by three and four powerful engines kept the steam lines open, although all trains were late, while the Colorado Midland road was tied up by a terrific snowslide west of Hyland that stalled both east and west bound traffic.

In Colorado Springs the storm continued unabated, from 2 o'clock yesterday morning until 8 o'clock last night and automobiles were replaced by sleighs and pedestrians took to skis and snowshoes before the day was over.

At Lake Moraine, on the city's mountain water system, the snow fell continuously and at midnight was 11.4 feet deep on a level while many drifts were 10 and 12 feet high.

The first station at Lake Moraine was about four in. in and this will add greatly to the city's supply for next year.

At an early hour this morning the snow storm began again but without the biting wind that caused yesterday's fall into huge drifts all over the city. The temperature fell several degrees after school was dismissed, on account of the heavy drifts which cut off some of the buildings.

snow plows can be pushed over the hill add much needed moisture to the soil.

Street Cars at Standstill.

For the first time in years the street car service was at an absolute standstill. Early yesterday morning the Colorado Springs and Interurban railway company sent out its four snow plows but three of these jumped the track and took careening with them.

By 11 o'clock no cars were running. Nearly a dozen cars were marooned and were left for the night in charge of men. The company kept the power plant running in order to provide heat for the cars.

One car was made to Mahtom and return and a car was compelled to stay there last night. There was a car stalled at Adams crossing, three at Ninth street, one at the post office, one on the Washburn line and two at Stratton park.

The depression left in the night of way by the early morning work of the plows made safe traveling for wagons and autos for a time as the snow was packed hard and lied to just chopped out with picks in order to get connections for the vehicles. By 8 o'clock, however, automobiles were unable to get through.

Snowdrifts at Hyland.

The Colorado and Southern railroad probably more than any other line. A huge and slide at Hyland west of Twin Basin presented both No. 6 westbound and No. 4 eastbound from reaching their destinations, but the heavy engines and powerful traction

IF WOMEN FORCE FIGHT WE WILL FIGHT...WHIFLER

We Revere Women, But If Necessary
Will Fight, Says Male
Suffrage Representative

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Woman opposed to equal suffrage had their meeting today before the house committee on rules to protest against the resolution championed by the women suffragists which would create a suffrage standing committee in the house of representatives. Scores of women from various parts of the country, marshaled by Mrs. Arthur Dodge of New York appealed to the committee not to grant the suffragists' plea. Tomorrow the suffragists will be given an opportunity to answer the attack.

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCullough of Chicago, having been chosen to sum up the case.

Though the antisuffrage women occupied most of the day, their argument was closed by a man, Everett P. Wheeler of New York, representing the Man Suffrage association, who sounded a battle cry against the suffragists. Holding aloft the picture of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Association for Woman Suffrage, Mr. Wheeler said:

"When I saw this person here yesterday, she struck me like a clenched fist. We demand our rights," I said to myself. "Clenched fist means fight." The manhood of this nation has been trained to respect and revere womanhood and I claim that for American manhood today, but if we are challenged to fight this moment, there will be blood to shed as well as blows to strike."

Mr. Wheeler paid a tribute to Miss Jane Addams who addressed the joint meeting yesterday on behalf of equal suffrage and declared it was an ideal for the nation when Jane Addams directed her attention from William Morris to suffrage.

HUERIA AGAIN MAKES EFFORT TO GET MONEY

Sends Minister of Finance to Europe to Try to Negotiate Loan.

REBELS PLEASE WASHINGTON

Effort to Restore Civil Authority in North Is Satisfying.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4.—Hoping that he will be able to do what others have failed to do, President Huerta is sending to Europe his minister of finance, Adolfo de la Llave, on a money-seeking mission. The minister left for Vera Cruz tonight and will proceed from there to Paris. Senor de la Llave is in close relations with Jose Ives de Edimantour, the finance minister of Mexico, and other members of the old regime who are now in Europe, and through them, hopes, it is said, to be able to obtain money. He retains his position as minister of finance, the office being conducted in his absence by the subsecretary.

It developed today that the plan of the foreign colonies for defense involves an effort to have marines of nations other than the United States bare bare to join the local organization which is being formed. A plan was discussed by the diplomatic corps today but the American chargé d'affaires, Nelson O'Wright, was not at the meeting.

It is reported that in this attack on the capital, too, an effort will be made to induce General Huerta and his forces to move to the city.

The British, U.S. and French are sending men to help clear away the wreckage of the rebellion. The American chargé d'affaires, Nelson O'Wright, was present at the meeting.

Administrators here are viewing with satisfaction evidence of the growing sense of responsibility on the part of the rebel leaders in northern Mexico for the protection of life and property within the territory in their possession. The state department's view is that the rebels of Anahuac hold for ransom or extorted on Mexican areas, now receiving prompt attention at the hands of the Constitutional forces, and it is apparent that the rebels in turn are gradually exerting more power and imposing greater control over their subordinates.

Some semblance of civil authority also is beginning to appear in the northern states and is meeting with recognition at the hands of military leaders. Altogether, officials here see indications that a regular organization of the national government about to be set up from the chaotic conditions that have prevailed in that section of Mexico for the last nine months.

It is believed that the Constitutionalists are divided on the question of seeking for a state of recognition by the United States. A portion of them are said to incline to the view ascribed to General Villa that such recognition of their government in its present condition might encourage a movement for the separation of the northern states.

VICTIMS OF TEXAS FLOOD NUMBER 24

Rains Cease and Rivers Have Started to Fall; Situation Is Improved.

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 4.—The Texas flood center shifted southward tonight toward the gulf, centering from Hearne to Richmond, where the flood crest of the Brazos river continued to do great damage and caused some loss of life. The general flood situation improved when rains began to cease after three days continuous downpour over most of the state. The creeks in north and west Texas began to fall slowly. Before relief came the floods had over-spilled five large river basins from the headwaters of the Sabine in northeast Texas to the San Antonio river in the southwest.

The total number of dead as a result of the floods stood early tonight at 34. Estimate of property damage ranged between one and two million dollars, with Waco and San Antonio the heaviest sufferers among the cities. The San Antonio loss was a quarter of a million and Waco's damage was exceeded by an acre.

As the water receded offering began in Waco and militia men put out on duty in East Waco this afternoon to guard property. Waco this afternoon also reported its first fatalities when J. W. Ray and C. McDaniel fell from

There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and keep an even surface. Have your oven moderate at first, until the cake is fully risen; then increase the heat, so as to brown it over quickly.
Extreme heat stiffens the dough.
If you stiffen the outside of the cake before the rising is complete, you stop the rising process. Then the leavening gas, forming inside, will bulge up the center, where the dough is still soft, and spoil the shape of the cake.

Employees Who Were Snowbound in Town

Those who had no place to go yesterday and nothing to do but sit at home by the fire or radiator were lucky. Those who left that day called themselves less fortunate. Many business firms made concessions to their employees because of the storm and lack of street car service and a general good spirit prevailed. Several of the larger department stores allowed the women employed to leave early in the afternoon so that they might reach home before nightfall.

The Pearl laundry, which employs about 50 girls, made arrangements at nearby lodging houses and all employees who so desired were given accommodations for the night. This, the management said last night, will continue until the storm abates and street car service is resumed.

Telephone Girls Taken Care Of.

The telephone company provided quarters for its employees at the T. W.
C. A., the Alta Vista hotel and private homes so that they will not need to go back and forth to their homes.
The company also provided meals for the girls employed by it. The lord of the telephone company was heavier yesterday than it has been for many months. It is estimated that during the day 60,000 calls were answered.

The county commissioners chartered a large carriage last evening and took every woman employed at the court house home. Several trips were made with the carriage which will probably be used this morning to bring the people to conserve the milk supply as much as possible.

At the Colorado Springs Laundry, a small amount of work will be done today. The collection of work progressed yesterday with much difficulty.
Employees were allowed to go at an early hour and many of the girls who live a considerable distance away went home with friends who lived of the disagreeable features of the storm.

to have sidewalks cleaned Wednesday:

Colorado City or Manitou. Superintendent Cole yesterday afternoon issued an order that there would be no

Enterpreneurs and managers of various kinds were caught off guard and was one of the greatest reminders that no decent life in the Pikes Peak region can exist in rainy days.

With the streets practically impractical for the majority of vehicles the probability of fire became serious.
The department would have been unable to make a run owing to the long drifts and no provision could have been afforded outside of the business district. The fire department undertook the hard task of calling all telephone subscribers to be careful of fire and many a householder was careful to see that the furnace was going right.

Wires Remain Open.

There was no difficulty with the telephone or telegraph wires. Emergency men kept watch at the telephone company's building to repair all line breaks but none occurred. The operators however had a busy afternoon and night in hand linking all the calls.

According to District Manager F. A.
Holland of the Mountain States Telephone company there will be plenty of trouble for the radio men if the snow begins to stick to the wires. In Pueblo Creek, which is in Holland's district, the snow began to stick to the wires early yesterday and many trees were felled.

'REBELS SECURE AN ARTILLERY TEACHER'

Captain F. Thord Gray, formerly of British Army, is New Instructor.

HERMOSILLA, Mex., Dec. 4. Captain F. Thord Gray, formerly of the British army, arrived here today and was appointed by the Constitutionalists as artillery and cavalry instructor. It was pointed out that this would not be a deviation from the insurgent policy of not accepting foreigners in the army, as Captain Gray's work would be confined to teaching.

The insurgents have much artillery on hand, but only untrained young Mexicans to operate it. They also desire to establish a system of traveling inspectors to instruct the various commands in a simple and uniform drill manual.

These means will be taken to obtain a well organized body of troops to offset the old federal regulars who to a certain extent have remained with the central government through the various political changes of the last three years.

Important tariff reductions on such articles as machine, cotton, clothing, sugar and coffee imported into the territory held by the Constitutionalists were announced today. The duty was between 40 and 50 per cent under the federal tariff.

It was announced that telegraphic communication between Nogales on the Arizona border, and points in Durango, including Torreon and Parral, had been restored and that when General Villa's troops occupy Chihuahua a circuit from Nogales to Juarez will be complete.

General Carranza was joined here to-day by Manuel Rosillo, secretary of communications in President Madero's cabinet, who came to offer his services to the Constitutional government.

After the overthrow of Madero he remained in Mexico City for a time under close guard, it is said, although not an actual prisoner, but he escaped later to the United States.

thousand federal troops with members of some of the richest families in Mexico are in the ravine.

Unable to procure vehicles and given only a short time to gather such of their portable gear as they could, the civilians started to follow the fleeing army on foot. The route to the border is over 100 miles of desert without water, railway or wagon roads. That the refugees endured great hardships is thought inevitable. Luis Tellez, one of the refugees, is said to have withdrawn 5,000,000 pesos from banks before leaving.

Almost everyone in Marfa left for the border to witness the arrival of the refugees. Marfa is about 60 miles from El Paso and is connected only by a wagon road and a telephone.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—Wastefulness on farms and in the cities, failure to till and cultivate millions of idle acres of land in the United States, inadequate means of getting products of soil from the producers to the consumers and extravagant desires of luxuries were set forth to-day by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw at the agricultural conference, which will continue three days, was called to discuss the relation of the city and country with reference to the high cost of living.

United States Senator Charles P. Geer of Oklahoma was the first speaker at the opening session, taking for his subject "The Interrelation of City and Country." In speaking of the shortage in production, he said many farms had been "mined" the strength of the soil has been exhausted with no attempt at fertilization and the fields abandoned. He called this present a national calamity and added that an agricultural bureau would change such conditions, "which together with wastefulness both in marketing crops and in the cities is responsible in a great measure for the cost of living."

Both the farmer and retailer were blamed for the prevailing high prices of eggs by C. L. Spelman, formerly of the United States department of agriculture. He declared that the farmer, with full knowledge, sold eggs to the country merchants and commission houses and that the profits were not made by the cold storage houses or the middlemen, but by the retailers.

"Dustoff" without any more food or water than they could carry with them, the refugees from Chihuahua, 180 miles, evacuated by the federales, are now in the region of important Mexican oil fields, resulted in a federal loss of $20, according to a Constitutional report received at Marfa late today from General Aguirre, comender-in-chief in that district. The Constitutional loss was not stated. Late advices from Victoria said the fighting had been resumed.

The battle started Tuesday night. General Carranza Torres, commanded the Constitutionalists who numbered 2,000 and Generals Sabago and Arzamendi led the federal forces of about 1,000 men.

REBELS SECURE AN ARTILLERY TEACHER

Captain F. Thord Gray, formerly of British Army, Is New Instructor.

HERMOSILLO, Mex. Dec. 4.—Captain F. Thord Gray, formerly of the British army, arrived here today and was appointed by the Constitutionists as artillery and cavalry instructor. It was pointed out that this would not be a deviation from the insurgent policy of not accepting foreigners in the army as Captain Gray's work would be confined to teaching.

The insurgents have much artillery on hand but only untrained young Mexicans to operate it. They also desire to establish a system of traveling inspectors to instruct the various commands in a simple and uniform drill manual.

These means will be taken to obtain a well organized body of troops to offset the old federal regulars who to a certain extent have remained with the central government through the various political changes of the last three years.

Important tariff reductions on such articles as machinery, cotton, clothing, sugar and coffee imported into the territory held by the Constitutionalists were announced today. The duty was between 40 and 50 per cent under the federal tariff.

It was announced that telegraphic communication between Nogales on the Arizona border and points in Durango, including Torreon and Parral, had been restored and that Villa would probably occupy a home vacated by one of the millionaire Terresa family. It was from Chihuahua that Villa 19 years ago adopted the career of a bandit because he was ordered arrested on a charge of having killed an army officer. Now he has not only himself but the men who rallied around him occupying the quarters of federal officials who sought his outlaw status.

General Carranza was joined here tonight by Manuel Bonilla, secretary of communications in President Madero's cabinet, who came to offer his services to the Constitutional government. After the overthrow of Madero he remained in Mexico City for a time under close guard. It is said, although not an actual prisoner, but he escaped later to the United States.

Before leaving Chihuahua, General Mercado, at the request of the United States Consul Marion Letcher and other consuls, left 200 federal soldiers for police duty, the purpose being that the rebels on entering the city would not molest these men. The federal police, however, took flight at the rebels' approach and fled. The consuls then prevailed upon citizens to do the policing.

NO SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

THE GAZETTE does not need to assert its friendship for labor. It has proved that friendship again and again, by fighting for what labor wants and should have.

It supported in the last legislature the measures desired by labor. It believes most earnestly in the Progressive platform, with its demand for national legislation for the protection of labor. It is a firm believer in the right of labor to organize, and to be dealt with as an organization. Here in Colorado Springs it took the lead in the movement for an investigation of coal prices, in the hope that consumers, most of whom are laborers, might get coal cheaper.

Hence it is as a friend that The Gazette warns labor against entering upon the proposed sympathetic strike. Labor feels that war is now being planned upon all organized labor that if the unions are beaten in the coal strike other employers will wage war upon other unions. Hence labor feels entitled to fight back with every weapon at hand.

But labor must not rush headlong into a sympathetic strike. Such a strike would weary suffering to every man, woman and child in Colorado, save to those few who are so rich that they need take no thought of the morrow. It would mean the breaking of contracts with employers friendly to labor. Every industry would be paralyzed; there would be a loss of millions of dollars to the people of the state, falling most heavily upon labor itself and bitterness would be engendered that might last for decades.

In a state where the people have the initiative, the referendum and the recall there is no excuse for the sympathetic strike. A sympathetic strike is war, and in these days war is justified only when there is no peaceful method for securing redress of grievances. Direct legislation gives the people at all times power to make their will respected.

Certainly in Colorado labor has not yet exhausted all peaceful means. All labor desires in the southern coal strike is arbitration by a board of fair-minded men of every point at issue. Such arbitration is easily possible. All that is needed is for the legislature to be called together, and to enact the legislative program outlined by the Colorado Progressive Service, as follows:

Enactment of a mediation act, similar to the New York act, under which a permanent commission should attempt a settlement of all labor disputes, giving to the commission the power to subpoena witnesses and examine them under oath. This plan is similar to the Erdman act, under which several threatened railway strikes have been averted.

Passage of a resolution instructing the governor, if either party to the southern coal strike refuses within ten days to abide the result of the decision by the mediation board, to step in and operate the mines for the benefit of the people until both sides do reach an agreement.

Appointment of a committee to investigate the costs of coal mining, and report to the people before the 1914 election, in order that they may have the benefit of this report before voting on the state coal mining amendment.

If labor will but center attention on this program, Governor Ammons and the legislature will be forced to act. A majority of the members of the legislature are already in sympathy with such action. The required two-thirds in both senate and house could easily be brought into line.

Certainly until labor has made an honest effort, by the means guaranteed to them in the constitution of the state, to end the strike thus peacefully, and in a way that will provide for the future settlement of all strikes, it will not be justified, even in considering such a desperate expedient as a sympathetic strike.

THE ROOT PLAN

SENATOR ELIJAH ROOT has a plan for the rehabilitation of the Republican party in New York. He wants a platform adopted declaring for direct primaries and for a short ballot, electing only a governor and auditor, and providing for the appointment by the governor of his cabinet.

The plan has one serious defect. Senator Root is right in seeking concentration of power in responsible hands, and he is right in demanding that these officials be nominated by the people in open primary. But, if there is to be concentration of power, there must be direct responsibility. It would be a fine thing for New York to elect a governor who, through the appointment of his cabinet, should carry out a vigorous reform policy. But what if the people, after conferring such great powers upon the governor, were to elect the wrong man to the place? His power for harm would be increased manifold.

The Root plan is therefore not complete. Direct primaries and concentration of power are needed. But, in order that that power may be used for the public good, it must be made directly responsible to the people, though the initiative, the referendum and the recall. If Senator Root will add those measures to his program, he can confidently appeal for the votes of all progressive-minded people. But when he has gone that far he has become a Progressive and Senator Root will never take that step. He wants power concentrated, but he wants to keep direct responsibility from the people, whom he distrusts and fears.

GET THE FACTS

ON Monday night at 7:30 in the city hall the second session of the coal investigation commission will be held. All citizens should be there, especially those who have information bearing on the cost of mining coal. While The Gazette has believed, from information in its possession, that the people of Colorado Springs have been charged too much for coal, that is a belief in which The Gazette may have been mistaken. This is an exceptionally important matter, and it should be approached by all without prejudice or passion, but with the sole and earnest desire to get at the actual facts.

A FREE TRADE DISAPPOINTMENT

IT TRANSPRIES that we haven't free trade in wheat and wheat products, after all. Wheat was put on the free list in the Underwood bill, but provision was made that if any country discriminated against the products of the United States, there should be a retaliatory duty levied on products from that country. Argentina is the chief competitor of the United States in wheat and flour, and, as Argentina discriminates against American wheat and flour, the retaliatory duty must be levied against Argentine imports.

But it is not likely this will have much effect upon prices. It has already been discovered that free trade doesn't reduce food prices, and inasmuch as the United States and Canada produce all the wheat needed here, the fact that Argentine wheat can't be imported free will not raise prices. We will continue to pay what we have been paying for our loaf of bread.

Those desiring to contribute seeds, suet and bread crumbs, can send the same to the home of the superintendent of parks, John H. Lane, 224 Mesa road, or notify me.

The generous-hearted people of this city never turned down a call for help, whether for man, beast or bird, and I am already rejoicing in the generous response which I know is coming in answer to this cry.

And, when the heart is filled with the melody of the songs of the birds, just write out a fat check for the Associated Charities and other organizations endeavoring to lift the iron hand of poverty from the lives of the unfortunate, and the spirit of the Christmasee will camp in our midst.

LUXURIES

BY GEORGE FITCH

Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

A luxury is something which is a pleasure, this year and a necessity next year.

Man can get along without luxuries, and as long as he does so he is safe. But as soon as he adopts a luxury he cannot get along without it, and has to classify it thereafter as "living expenses."

When man first began his variegated career, food and water were the only necessities, and a bed of nice, soft leaves was a luxury. But after he had bearded his family down in leaves for a few weeks a bed became a necessity, and whenever he tried to dodge the job of gathering it on a cold, rainy night, his wife threatened to leave him on the ground of non-support.

Ever since man has been gradually accumulating luxuries and then intrinsically accounting for them as necessities.

There was a time when a fork was a novelty, and the wife who gave parties at which such guests as she could afford to entertain with the newfangled cutlery threatened to leave him on the ground of non-support. To the good old wives of Washington, Murdoch and Gifford Pinchot, appearing before the suffrage convention to champion the constitutional amendment giving women the vote.

Although Idaho gives as her reason for her banishment of finger bowls the belief that they are unnecessary, the effects east will doubtless think the action prompted by a desire to save Idaho citizens the embarrassment of mistaking them continually for soup dishes.

Progressives think that their adherence to the cause of women suffrage was not mere piffling foolishness but the efforts east will doubtless think the action prompted by a desire to save

Idaho citizens the embarrassment of mistaking them continually for soup dishes.

Governor Ammons has appointed the race track commission authorized by the last legislature, but the various minimum wage committees still remain unappointed, tho' the party paid good money to the newswoman.

Now no one has ever carried until she has paid up her bill of solid silver meat, dessert, oyster, etc., etc., stop and see what she has.

The first bill was a plus in England, but since man has been gradually accumulating luxuries and then intrinsically accounting for them as necessities.

There was a time when a fork was a novelty, and the wife who gave parties at which such guests as she could afford to entertain with the newfangled cutlery threatened to leave him on the ground of non-support. To the good old wives of Washington, Murdoch and Gifford Pinchot, appearing before the suffrage convention to champion the constitutional amendment giving women the vote.

Any tell what have we done? That bar the Durango Democrat or the Colorado Mining Gazette didn't give us a line of advertising for the last days—Puffin Captain.

But the Chieftain you notice did not fall in its duty towards us.

The Leadville Herald-Democrat is another paper that now declines an arbitration set noway to. Gladly will all the enlightened newspaper of the state are coming to The Gazette's position.

President H. F. Bush of the Mountain Eagle-Durango & Rio Grande split is the latest big official to protest government ownership of railways. Respectfully referred to the New York.

Recognizing these great principles, our governments should pay so much for honesty that it would have to be classed as a luxury; after which it would speedily become a necessity and we would all live happily ever after.

From the Diary of a Grandmother: Being a Few Extracts From the Diary of a Grandmother Who Visits Her Daughter and Her Four Grandchildren for the First Time.

BY RUTH CAMERON

"In my day a woman who had a girl to help her about the housework (we called them 'help' then; they call them 'maids' nowadays) as my daughter reminded me after I had used the familiar term in the presence of her friends) was supposed to have a great deal of spare time. I recd. But we always expected Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Page to do more than anyone else for the Church Fair because they were the only women in the church who kept help.

Now Margaret has had a maid ever since the first baby was born, and I have always been glad because I liked to think of her as having more time to enjoy life than I did. So it was one of the biggest surprises of my visit when I found that Margaret was more of a slave to her housework with a maid than my sister or I ever were without one. And I'm sorry to say that it seems to be her children's fault. No, I'll take that back. It's more surprising and the present day attitude towards children.

"Janet is 15 and she hasn't a single responsibility, not one set task that she is supposed to perform every day. She does not make her own bed; she doesn't keep her room picked up; half the time she forgets to take the hair out her brush. Imagine it! In my day we would have said that such a steady, lazy girl would never get a husband, but from all I hear about Janet's boy friends there is no such danger for her.

"Richard and Ruth are equally lazy and irresponsible. Ruth is only 11, but when my sister was 12 and I was 10 my mother went home to nurse her mother and left us in charge for six weeks and we did all the work and went to school, too. Richard thinks he is exempt because he is a boy, but my two boys took the care of their own rooms and did all my dishes for me until Margaret was old enough to help.

"The worse of it all is that, besides not lifting their hands to help the children make work, Margaret has to spend a long time every day just picking up after them. And yesterday the maid threatened to leave because Janet and a crowd of girls had dirtied her clean kitchen Saturday afternoon, making tea.

"Now imagine Margaret taken to make those children mind! It's enough to tire anyone out to get Ruth to bed on time or make Janet do her practicing. It makes me sad to Margaret who almost as sad for the children. What will the next generation be? or isn't my daughter's home typeleg? I wonder."

A PLEA FOR THE BIRDS

"When the Birds Go North Again"

"Oh, every year hath winter...

But a day is always coming...

When the birds go north again...

"Tis the sweetest thing to remember...

If winter is on the wane...

When the dark, cold days are over...

That the birds go north again."

The writer of these cheery lines was thinking of the summer birds, now safe from the death-riding snow storms and blizzards, sweeping over the northland.

It will be many a long day before we shall see the blossom-laden cherry tree and warble those verses.

I know the song that the bluebird is singing, out in the apple tree where he is swinging. Brave little fellow, the skies may be dreary. Nothing cares he while his heart is so cheery.

Whitish waiting for the coming of the bluebird, and the host of feathered brothers which, like the tourists, bless us through the summer time, only we are reminded that large numbers of our brave, rugged birds that remain with us the year round, courageously battling with winter's storms, are at the present time our guests, and are being provided with food by some of their loyal lovers.

The children of the city, especially those who attend Sunday school, are familiar with the fact that 10 large "free lunch counters" were erected in Monument Valley park a couple of years ago and supplied with millet and other seeds, bread crumbs and meat, upon which hundreds of different kinds of birds feasted daily throughout the winter months.

The children of the various Sunday schools contributed the pennies necessary to purchase the food and every penny given them returned to the hearts of the donors a hundred-fold of awakened interest and concern for all classes of sufferers, whether man or feathered brother.

The result of the winter care of the birds was quickly noticed, not only in the greatly increased numbers of the all-the-year-round birds, but also in the summer birds which we are pleased to believe were informed of the going treatment accorded the harder brethren.

That there is an awakening deeper in bird life and greater alertness to man's care for them every teacher in our public schools will gladly tell you.

SPORT NEWS

SIDE BETS FOR BIG FIGHTS ARE THINGS OF THE PAST

Side bets for big fights seem to be almost a thing of the past, and other day while talking fight no old sporting authority was lamenting the fact that the old fashioned contest for side bets was dying out, and he regretted the same, fearing that the side bet had much to do with putting the men more, on their mettle. For a great many years no boxing bout of any importance was considered genuine unless each of the boys put up a side bet, either his own money or that of an enthusiastic admirer.

The system originated in the old days of bare knuckle fighting, when gate money was unknown, and when a fighter had no earthly chance of becoming a champion unless he could find a wealthy patron to put up money for him. In those days there was a great deal more betting on the result of boxing bouts than there is at the present time and many of the sporting Corinthians (as they were called in those days) made and lost vast fortunes by means of wagers on fighters.

Oust Bennion, Cry at University of Utah

SALT LAKE, Utah, Dec. 4.—Students of the University of Utah are circulating petitions, which will be presented to the board of regents of the state institution, asking for the removal of Fred Bennion as coach of all university athletics. Athletes who worked under Bennion in 1912 and 1913 are said to be behind the movement to have the Crimson coach ousted. The documents were started quietly at the east bench on Tuesday, and last night there were over 400 signatures representative of every department and of every fraternity and sorority connected with the university. It is expected that by Friday night the petitions will have a majority of the students back of them, and by the time it is presented to the regents, early in January, at least 1,000 of the 1,200 students now enrolled will have affixed their signatures to the protest against the Bennion regime.

The petitions claim that Bennion, first of all, is incompetent, that he has no knowledge of any sport except football, and his training in this game was only under a coach of mediocre ability.

It is also declared that Bennion's personality prevents him from accepting services from players of national reputation who often locate here, and along this same line that he fails to work harmoniously with his players, often putting star men on the bench following some pretty squabble.

There is little doubt but that the undergraduates will be behind the petition in a body, and also there may be like documents circulated among the alumni and prominent backers of Crimson athletics.

MIKE DONLIN MAY RETURN TO GIANTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—If Mike Donlin shows any symptoms of coming back into baseball form while on the team with the Giants, the chances are that he will get birth in the big league next season as a pinch hitter. Since Harry McCormick has accepted the job as manager of the Chattanooga club, it would not be surprising if McCormick himself will take Mike on the payroll. They will have to go a long way before finding a man who can top the ball like Donlin. His bats may have slowed up, but he still has the eye.

Coach Titus May Go to California

There is a report in western circles that C. S. Titus, the noted amateur champion at sweeps and bulls, will go out to California to coach one of the big western universities. The offer was made to one of the leading coaches of the east, who was under a good contract and did not care to make the change. It is understood that Titus was well in the lead, and a practical man and beyond

FULTZ SAYS PLAYERS NOT GOING TO FEDS

President of New Baseball Frat Admits That New Circuit Will Be Branded O.K.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—President David L. Fultz, of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, issued a statement tonight in which he denied a report that a number of major league ball players, members of the fraternity, had signed contracts to play with various clubs in the Federal League in 1914. His statement on the subject follows:

"I do not believe the report that a number of the players in organized ball have signed with the Federal League for the reason that 55 per cent of the players in the four larger leagues have stated to me personally that they would not sign with any one contract satisfactory to the fraternity were procured. As the advisory board has not yet passed upon the Federal league contract and as no agreement has yet been reached with organized ball, any player who signs a contract with either faction at the present time will be considered to have committed an act of hostility to the fraternity which may amount to cause for expulsion."

We understand that the Federal league contract which will be submitted to us within the next week, will comply with all our requests; if so, the fraternity will place no obstacles in the way of the players signing when the proper time comes if they think the move is wise one. A few of the players may have signed already and a number more may have agreed to do so when the contract is approved, but there isn't the slightest doubt in the mind of any member of the advisory board that the players with few exceptions, will remain absolutely loyal to the fraternity, and will follow out the plan agreed upon several months ago."

Britons Seek to Regain Polo Honor

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Members of the Polo association have expressed pleasure over the announcement that the Hurlingham club was challenging again for the trophy, but refuse to give any authoritative statement until the challenge is received and officially passed upon.

A cablegram from London today brought the announcement of the challenge. The conditions and formal challenge have been forwarded to New York.

According to the usual custom, the challenge will go before the polo cup committee, and if accepted a special committee will be appointed to confer with the Hurlingham club regarding the various details incidental to the cup play.

It is within the power of the committee to name the dates upon which the international matches shall be played, but the American association always endeavors to select dates conforming with the plans of the invading English players. It is thought the Hurlingham club has specified several dates which will prove suitable from its standpoint.

HERRMANN IS NOT AFTER BROWN TO MANAGE REDS

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4.—We have had no negotiations whatsoever with Brown. I have not talked to him or had any communications with him. I cannot understand how anyone could say that we have decided upon Brown as our next manager, because he has not been discussed.

The above statement was made by President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati team.

WANTED—A NEW BASEBALL RULE

From the Popular Magazine.

Walter Johnson was pitching for the Washington team and Mr. Jennings, who was trying to jump optimism into a despairing player, sent up an ambitious "pinch-man" to try to make it. He asked Johnson, "After swinging so wildly at two of Johnson's offerings, he made a third wild swing, and Johnson's instant popped up a little to first base."

As he followed toward first and was out of the turn to Jennings, he cast a stream of emphatic and abusive language and wound up with this observation:

"I'm a son of a gun if there couldn't be a rule making that guy a lights on the ball."

Jennings, who got his start in life as a poor, wild army

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN INDIANAPOLIS NORMAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—Business conditions were resumed on almost a normal basis today, the fourth day of the strike of the teamsters and chauffeurs union.

The experienced side line was known in the heartland of America that for six months the single seat of empire had been stepped onto the tournament field, which was the next event on the program and won that handily from a big field.

At Princeton introduced routine of the next Lake starting in the spring of 1907, and remained there for three years as an amateur coach.

He is a man of great experience, and

Life of a Star Short 10 Years Is Average

Eleven years is not a particularly long time. A young man who entered business eleven seasons ago is just beginning to get his legs today. He is well started on the road to success, taken on the average. But the bellwether of eleven years ago, where are they today?

We glanced over the box scores of the games staged at the opening day of the season eleven years ago. Of the 12 who batted in those games in the American League today, just five are in active harness today, the rest of the 72 in the National League, the same number are actually playing at the present date. It was an interesting study, friends.

In the eleven years names which were famous then are all but forgotten now. The Ty Cobb, Joe Jackson and Jake Daubert of those times are dimmed.

It must make the stars of today do a lot of thinking.

Of all those famous clubs, Joe Tinker, shortstop, alone remains in regular lineups. And he is with Cincinnati now—a manager. Johnny Evers was with the squad then, but he didn't happen to bat on opening day.

None of the Cardinals, Phillies or Braves who strove on the diamond are playing in the majors. We found Christy Mathewson's name among those Giants. His case is a strange one. Then he was a wonder. Today he is a wonder of wonders. In fact, we believe he pitched better ball the latter part of 1913 than he did that day 11 seasons ago.

Wright, still a star.

Hans Wagner was with the Pirates then, holding down shortstop in his usual happy manner and batting at a clip which was the despair of his fellowmen. Hahn is one of the type which we have seen. In fact, he is probably the best player in the Reds. Then that was a giant chance, first baseman, ex-manager of the Cubs and present leader of the Yankees. IS YOUR CHILD'S TONGUE COATED?

If so, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue mother! If coated it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach liver and bowels need a gentle thorough cleansing at once.

When you eat citrus, batless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea full of cold, give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile which moves out of its little bowels without grilling and you have a well paid off child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless fruit laxative. It has no taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

"THE GIRL FROM MUMMS"

Walter Ware, who plays Jack Hamilton, the leading comedy role in "The Girl From Mumms," is a lover of grapefruit. Mr. Ware's description of grapefruit is as follows:

"Grapefruit is a most unique and delightful breakfast food which requires little preparation. It is a damp mixture of breakfast food which tastes like eating four raw lemons. It is ideal for breakfast. It is a damp mixture of food and unless approached with great caution is liable to explode in the direction of the diner's eyeglass."

Grapefruit can be eaten at any time of grapefruit, all of which have to be peeled by brute force. This is a delicate process, as a man is liable to get his pick under two or three seeds which let go before he is ready and make an abrupt dive into somebody's butter pad.

Dining car make it a habit of blasting out the seeds before serving grapefruit, and also succeed in blasting out most of the juice. Then they divide the grapefruit off into neat, wedge-shaped gratitons which can be shown off with pulverized sugar and eaten with a four-ply napkin tucked under the chin. Most people prefer their grapefruit served in this kind of napkin, as they can finish it before the next course freezes to the sideboard.

"A few years ago nobody had heard of the grapefruit, but is content to make a humble breakfast off composition pancakes and a relay of soft-boiled eggs. The crying need of the age, therefore, is a seedless grapefruit which can be eaten with careless glee and a mild flourish of a distended little finger."

Mr. Ware will be with "The Girl From Mumms" at the Opera house tomorrow

Comedian with "The Girl From Mumms" at the Opera House tomorrow during the meal, but usually served as a curtain raiser in order to prepare the guests for what is coming afterward. This is an excellent idea, for after a man has wrestled with the little form of a hidebound grapefruit and run down the last seed with the apex of one elbow in full view of the entire company, there will be a perceptible slowing up of his gastronomic ardor.

"Before being served, the grapefruit is cut in two at the waist line and turned up so that the seeds can be detected with the naked eye. A careful count has demonstrated that there are 11,734 of these seeds in every half acre.
